

Erie Long

There's a place that's far away, around the corner as clear as day.
Talk to someone in this town, they'd say find it look around.
Everybody knows, everybody sees, everybody got a degree.
Well, doesn't matter to me.

I've been searching for some days, I can't see it through the haze.
I run forward and reach out, that's not it, I'm full of doubt.
Everybody talks, and everybody walks, everybody's got a disease.
Well, doesn't matter to me.

Turn your head and hear that sound, it's right here, look around.
I fell down and hit my knees, living's easy when you hold the keys.
Everybody stews, everybody boos, everybody's got their release.
Well, doesn't matter to me.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.

I'm alone, I'm feeling strong, I've travelled to Erie Long.
Enter the fire, fire, enter the fire.
