

Haven't Forgotten

There is something wrong here, nothing turns, nothing turns.
My mind has shifted out of gear, what a world, what a world.
You break it down and made it clear, how I learn, how I learn.

I don't care what they say to you.
I don't care what they see in me.
I don't care what they feel for me.
I burn for you, I yearn for you.

I take your arm and bring in near, it's a fear, it's a fear.
You leave the room I disappear, but I'm right here, I'm right here.
Cause loving me is not a sin, no, so let me in, let me in.

I don't care what they say to you.
I don't care what they see in me.
I don't care what they feel for me.
I burn for you, I yearn for you.

Oh, well,
I mean you're something, man, you're something, you're a lot.
And, I mean you're something, Haven't forgotten, you're all I've got.
And, I mean you're something, man, you're something, you're a lot.
And, I mean you're something, Haven't forgotten, you're all I've got.

I don't care what they say to you.
I don't care what they see in me.
I don't care what they feel for me.
I burn for you, I yearn for you.

Oh, well,
I mean you're something, man, you're something, you're a lot.
And, I mean you're something, Haven't forgotten, you're all I've got.
And, I mean you're something, man, you're something, you're a lot.
And, I mean you're something, Haven't forgotten, you're all I've got.

Oh, oh.
